++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunnier by day, but cold and frosty nights.

Today:
Most parts dry with sunny spells after a cold and frosty start, though one or two light showers are possible in the east. Light winds for most.

Tonight:
Clearing skies and a widespread frost for most, locally severe. A few freezing fog patches possible by dawn. Cloudier in far northwest a little light rain.

Saturday:
Largely fine with sunny spells for most after a frosty start. Cloud thickening across parts of the far north bringing outbreaks of rain and snow flurries over some hills.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Patchy rain across the far northwest on Sunday, otherwise fine and dry. The rain gradually edging south and east through Monday and Tuesday and turning windier and milder.
